HARDSHIPS THAT NEW LAW CAUSES

Many Farmers do Not Learn Elevators Will Not Store Grain Until Midst of Threshing.

THEY WILL LOSE SOME MONEY

Elevator Men Answer Critics by Pointing to Absurdity of Favoring Such a Statute.

The farmers of Rush county are just now beginning to understand what an inconvenience that public service commission act of the last Democratic legislature is causing them. Some farmers are disposed to place the blame on the shoulder of the elevator men, but they declare that the legislature should be the object of their criticism.

The day that any farmer hauls his wheat or any grain to any elevator in Rush county, he has sold it at the market price of that day. Heretofore he could store it in an elevator and leave it there until he was ready to sell. If he thought the price would raise, he generally held his grain until he thought the high mark on the market had been reached.

Along comes the Democratic legislature with the public service commission act, one section of which provides that elevator owners shall make an accounting to the commission of all grain in storage ever so often. The elevator men say it's impossible, so they proceed to warn the farmers of Rush county that they will accept no more grain for storage.

The defense of the elevator men is that they would all be bankrupt. They say that they could make nothing on their investment if they were compelled to keep a complicated system of books. This they would have to do in order to comply with the law. Some farmers have been disposed to blame the elevator man. A local elevator owner said this morning that one of his customers had openly said to him that he believed the elevator men framed that law and had it passed for their benefit. The elevator man promptly pointed out impractical and foolhardy such a course would be.

"Here is an elevator man," he said to the farmer, "who has built an elevator that will store a hundred thousand bushels of grain and at a cost of $25,000. Do you suppose that man is going to have a law passed that will prevent him from using it and making his investment an actual loss."

"There is a likeness in this example. You build a modern barn on your farm. You expect to store hay and grain for your own use in it.

Along comes a man who says that it will be impossible for you to store anything in the barn. That's the fix the elevator men are in."

The new method is working a hardship on Rush county farmers and it is natural for them to try to fix the blame some places. They have been in the habit of hauling their grain to the elevator when it is threshed and not selling it until the market is good. Since they could always store their grain at the elevator, they have never prepared to store grain on their farms. It is likely this will result in many more prosperous farmers preparing to store their own grain in the future. Of course this will entail a heavy expense.

The elevator men of Rush county notified the farmers through the press early in the summer that they would not take any grain for storage and cited the reason, but only a small number of farmers noticed the announcement. The result was that many were in the midst of threshing before they learned that grain would not be accepted for storage. Many farmers feel that they will lose a good Continued on Page 4.

AUTO PARTY HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Heavy Machine Hit Culvert and Turned Over But Occupants Not Badly Hurt.

OCCURS NEAR HELM FARM

An automobile driven by Dr. Frank Schadel of Red Oak, Iowa, hit a culvert near the Helm farm, east of the city, last night and turned over, but luckily the party in the machine escaped with a few scratches and bruises. In the auto, besides Dr. Schadel, were Mr. and Mrs. Will M. Sparks and children Dorothy and William, Mrs. Schadel and daughter Frances and A. C. Hinchman of Red Oak.

As the machine approached the culvert Dr. Schadel pulled to the right side of the road to pass the P. A. Miller machine. Mr. Miller knew of the culvert and gave all the road he could without going in the ditch. Dr. Schadel was not acquainted with the road and the machine went off the grade the front wheel striking the culvert. The driver of the car saw that he could not pass the other machine and applied the brakes. The heavy machine turned over on its side, but the occupants escaped with a few minor injuries. The accident might have resulted seriously had the machine been going fast. The damage to the auto was slight and the engine was not damaged. Dr. and Mrs. Schadel and A. C. Hinchman are here visiting relatives.

Prank Of Boys Cause Prominent Men To Search For Burglars

The practice of a crowd of boys of arousing some Rushville men from pleasant slumbers during the night to chase away some imaginary burglars has called forth some very ludicrous situations.

Tuesday night the epidemic of "fake" phone calls broke out. E. B. Thomas' telephone bell rang about midnight and Mrs. Thomas answered. She was informed that a resident of her neighborhood was talking and that he had in some manner come on to the information the burglars were in James E. Watson's home across the street.

Mr. Thomas was aroused. He dressed hastily and went down to the corner heavily armed expecting to meet the informant on the corner.

He did not meet that person, nor did he see anything suspicious around the Watson home. He suspected a joke was brewing, but his suspicions were allayed when John Blackledge, bearing an ugly shot gun, and Alvan Moor, his neighbor, came across to the corner on the same mission.

While Mr. Thomas had been considering ways and means for catching the burglar, Mr. Blackledge had been notified of the presence of burglars in his neighbor's home. The person represented himself to be the same person who called Mr. Thomas. The person calling Mr. Moor said he was Edwin Watson, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Watson.

HAS TO ACCOUNT TO STATE BODY

I. & C. Receives Notice From Public Service Commission Ordering Report by July First.

IT COMES ONLY 15 DAYS LATE

Means Double System of Bookkeeping as Interurbans Account to Interstate Body.

The Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company yesterday was notified that it would be compelled to file a hundred and ten accounts with the state public service commission, beginning July first. The delay in sending the order is not accounted for.

This is not an uncommon thing with the new commission, it is said. Recently it sent out a circular letter concerning an order issued to the interurban lines of Indiana. The letters were mailed to the steam roads and it was not until some time later that the traction lines were notified.

This most recent order requesting the I. & C. and other Indiana interurban lines to file accounts of expenses was sent out fifteen days later than it was ordered to be in effect. The interurbans do not know when it will be effective because the ultimatum of the commission is so drastic that it will require some time for the interurban lines to prepare for what is demanded of the commission.

The order of the state commission will probably result in the I. & C. having to keep two separate accounts which will add a great expense. The I. & C. and all other traction lines for that matter, have to report to the Interstate commerce commission. It was the plea of the interurban interests of Indiana when the public service commission bill was being considered in the last legislature that they not be placed under its jurisdiction because the ground was already covered by the interstate commission and recent developments seem to bear out the traction interests in their first contention.

The I. & C. has to report to the interstate commission on eighty different accounts. The state commission demands reports on a hundred and ten accounts. Only fifty accounts on the two reports are alike. If eighty of the state commission's report were the same as the reports to the interstate commission, not so much trouble would be experienced because the interurban line could duplicate the interstate report and then add what more was asked by the state body. But since they do not there seems to be nothing open for the interurban lines but to keep two separate reports over the same work.

The report of the state commission attempts to show a difference between maintenance and operating expenses. It is difficult to discern the dividing line. The state body points out that if the wind blows a pole down and it had to be put back up, the expense should be charged to operations, but if the wind blows down a section of wire and it has to be replaced, the expense should be charged up to maintenance.

Another example of the methods of the new commission is cited. The Indiana interurban heads met with the commission May 23 to consider the filing of tariffs. The traction men asked that they be given at least a month in which to comply with any order the commission make. The interurbans received an order concerning tariffs and effective July first on June nineteenth, allowing the traction lines only eleven days

MEETING WITH T.R. REFERRED TO

Mulhall Letter Introduced in Lobby Inquirey Tells of Conference Watson Had.

ON PENDING LEGISLATION

Child Labor Law Was Agreed on But President Was Told Sherman Law Shouldn't be Amended.

Chief among the new developments in the Senate Lobby investigation in Washington yesterday, as relating to Former Congressman Watson of this city, was a letter of Mulhall's telling of an interview Mr. Watson had with Col. Roosevelt, while he was president, concerning pending legislation.

By way of digression, Mulhall stated the National Council of Industrial Defense, an organization of manufacturers and employers chief among whom is the N. A. M., raised from $500,000 to $7,000,000 a year to prevent radical labor legislation. The treasurer of this organization took the stand immediately thereafter and testified that all of the records of the organization would be introduced to show that only $35,000 a year was raised and that very little of it was expended in political work.

The part of Mulhall's letter relating to Mr. Watson's conference with Col. Roosevelt follows: "He (Watson) said he was invited to the White House at 9:30 p. m. and was with the President until 11:30 p. m. The President wished him to call so they could talk over the legislative program for the balance of this session, the President knowing that he represented Speaker Cannon and the other leaders of the House and Senate."

"He stated that the main reason of the call was that Speaker Cannon, Vice-President Fairbanks and several other leaders wanted to find out how the President stood in relation to a third term."

He stated that there were four things the President wished: First, that Congress would stay in session until May 15 to receive the Governors of the different states coming to Washington on that day. Second, to amend the Sherman law. Third, to have Congress vote for four battleships. Fourth, to pass a child's labor law for the District of Columbia, which would be a model law for the states in general.

"Mr. Watson says he told the President that it was impossible for him to get through this Congress two of those bills. First that Congress would only vote for two battleships."

"Second, that Congress would not amend the Sherman law. The President wanted to know why. Mr. Watson told him that almost the entire manufacturing interests of the country were against it."

"The President wished to know if Watson knew or had met Mr. Van Cleave. Watson told him he had and that he knew Van Cleave very well, and other leaders who were in touch with Van Cleave, and that Van Cleave was a splendid fellow and knew what the manufacturers wanted. He stated that he talked along these lines with the President, and finally the President did not press to have the Sherman bill passed at this session of Congress."

"He then stated that they passed to the child labor law and Watson asked the President who would draw this model bill. The President replied that he would have his Labor Commissioner draw it, the President explaining that he merely wished this bill to be an academic bill for the states."

WERE WANTED IN ANDERSON

Elmer and Milton Jefferies Will be Taken There.

Elmer and Milton Jefferies, ages 18 and 20 respectively, were arrested here last night and are being held for the Anderson police. The Anderson officials hold warrants for their arrest on charges of beating board bills. The charges were referred by a hotel man there and the police here were notified by phone to make the arrests. Elmer Jefferies came here last Friday and Milton arrived in the city yesterday. Both boys admitted that they owed a board bill. They had been employed in Anderson. Officers from Anderson were expected this afternoon."

J. S. WEBBER TAKEN TO GREENSBURG

Police Return With Man Wanted on Charge of Forgery—Passed Two $5 Checks.

WERE DRAWN ON AURORA BANK

J. S. Webber, the Greensburg barber who was arrested here yesterday was returned there last night by Chief of Police Johnson. Webber was arrested on the charge of forgery. He had only been in Greensburg a short time coming there from Aurora, Ind. Webber came here looking for work and stated that he left Greensburg and selected this city so as to be in "dry" territory. The Greensburg men who were victims of Webber and his check racket were Ben Meyer and Lon Rader. Both men took checks from Webber each for five dollars. The checks were on an Aurora bank.

The bank at Aurora did not even know Webber. While in jail here Webber told Sheriff Bebout he had forged the check but had intended to make the amount good and neglected to do so. He was accompanied here by his wife who left last night for Cincinnati. While in Greensburg Webber was employed at the Will Vogel barber shop but had been intoxicated most of the time.

RUNAWAY BOYS ARE CAUGHT HERE

Two Knightstown Youths Bound For Florida Have Journey Interrupted by the Police.

WAIT IN VAIN FOR TRAIN

One is Thoughtful and Brings Overcoat Along—Both Are Sent Back Home.

Harry Steel, age 13, and William Fredrick, age 11 years, runaway boys from Knightstown were found near the Big Four depot this morning by the police. The boys left home yesterday morning, Florida being their destination. They walked as far as this city yesterday and when night overtook them they camped out on the top of a lumber pile and were waiting for a freight train when the police stopped their journey.

When asked where they had intended going the boys replied that they were bound for Florida. The Fredrick boy, the smaller of the two, was barefooted and carried an overcoat. He claimed that the other boy induced him to leave home. The police here received word from the Fredrick boy's mother that she would send car fare and to send him home. The Steel boy's mother stated over the phone that she had no money to send him and for the officers to do what they thought best. The boy stated that he would like to work on a farm but could find no employment in Knightstown.

The Steel boy was started home shortly after noon. He walked from Knightstown here and the police thought it would do him no harm to walk back. The other lad was held until the north bound Big Four train and sent home. Harry Steel, the older of the two, is a reader of ten cent novels and was full of the yellow-back enthusiasm, explaining the policy that he carried a red handkerchief "to flag the trains like they do in the books." The police state that he is ripe for Plainfield and only his promise to return home and stay there kept him from going this time.

The parents of the Fredrick boy are living and the other boy lives with his mother. They left Knightstown yesterday morning about eleven o'clock. When found by the police both were about half starved and were given a big dinner by Chief McAllister. When given a chance to return home the Steel lad jumped at the chance and the other boy stated that this was his last trip away from home.

SUES I. &amp; C. FOR $220 DAMAGES

Clarence C. Shipp of Shelbyville Brings Suit in the Shelby Circuit Court.

SAYS CLEANER WAS BROKEN

The Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company was made the defendant in a suit for damages brought yesterday afternoon in the Shelby circuit court by Clarence C. Shipp, through his attorney, M. O. Sullivan, says the Shelbyville Republican. Shipp is demanding $220.

The complaint states that on November 11, 1912, he shipped a Vacuum cleaner to this city over the traction line and that when it was given into the care of the company it was in good shape. He alleged that on being received in this city that it was dropped from the truck while being taken to the ware house and that it was twisted and wrenched so badly as to render it totally useless. The cleaner was consigned to Judge Alonzo Blair.

The plaintiff alleges that through the negligence of the traction company he lost the value of the cleaner. He asks in addition to the judgment for the value of the machine, that the costs of the case be taxed against the traction company.

MAY GET A CALL TO MARTINSVILLE

AN ADVANCEMENT FOR HIM

The Rev. S. G. Huntington, pastor of the Baptist church at Waldron, may go to Martinsville to accept the pastorate of the Baptist church at that place. Rev. Mr. Huntington preached there on last Sunday morning before a large audience, having been extended an invitation to appear in the pulpit there.

According to the Martinsville Reporter the audience was well pleased with Rev. Huntington and the sermon he delivered. Since he has lived in Waldron he has become well liked by the people of that thriving little town and also by a majority of the residents of Liberty township. The pastorate at Martinsville is a good charge and would be quite an advancement for the Rev. Huntington should the call be extended to him.

LIGHTNING HITS A MANILLA GAS HOUSE

Property of Manilla Gas Company is Destroyed at a Loss of $200 During Storm.

HOUSE NEAR THERE STRUCK

Although there was no electrical display here yesterday morning during the downfall of rain, electricity did some damage at Manilla and just over the line in Shelby county. A bolt hit a gas house owned by the Manilla Gas company and ignited it. The structure was burned to the ground. The loss is placed at two hundred dollars, with no insurance. The building housed the company's big separator which was probably ruined by the heat. The building made a big blaze, as it was double walled, with sawdust between the walls.

Lightning struck the home of George Hawkins just west of Manilla, but fortunately no one was injured. Plastering was knocked off the walls of some of the rooms, but the loss will not amount to much.

Here is a name—PENSLAR that will mean a great deal to every man, woman and child in this city and county when they learn what it stands for.

It is our duty and our pleasure to tell you.

There is a great firm of Manufacturing Chemists in Detroit, The PENSLAR Chemical Company, whose name on the label of a remedy is the best possible guaranty of its purity and medicinal worth.

They prepare in their splendid laboratories over 100 remedies for household use.

They do not believe in secret medicines. They think you have a right to know what you are taking.

And you have

So they put the full formulae on every label—the name and the exact quantity of every ingredient—all in plain English so you can judge for yourself.

If they were not sure that each of these was the best possible prescription—if they were not sure that their skill in compounding these remedies was unsurpassed they could not afford to do this.

We like to handle drugs of quality.

That is the way we get our trade.

That is why we obtained the agency for these splendid remedies known as the

SEYMOUR TO HAVE A REGULAR STAGE

Chautauqua Management Starts Innovation by Fitting up Unusual Background For Programs.

SCENES ALONG RHINE RIVER

The Seymour chautauqua will have the distinction of being the first in Southern Indiana to have a complete stage equipment, says the Seymour Republican. Usually little attention is given to stage settings other than adequate footlights, but the local committee decided that Seymour should go one step farther and have a complete stage, arranged in the same manner as in a theater. This will greatly add to the beauty of the platform and will be a pleasing feature for the entertainers, many of whom are compelled to appear under unfavorable circumstances in many places.

The stage will be protected with a substantial roof and will be water proof. The scenery consists of seventeen pieces and when in place represents an interior view, picturing scenes along the Rhine River.

A balustrade effect will be given by the large panels at the rear of the stage. The side panels or wings have been painted to carry out the interior view which is beautified by the richly draped top panels or "flies." The scenery when arranged presents an attractive view overlooking the Rhine River. The work is done in water colors which blend beautifully. The light blue of the quiet river will have a very pleasing effect in contrast to the brown of the drapery under the glare of the electric lights.

MANILLA MAN PAYS FINE

Assault and Battery Costs Ariel Headlee $15.75.

Ariel C. Headlee of Manilla paid a fine of five dollars and costs late yesterday afternoon to Squire Kratzer for assault and battery on Harry Edwards. Headlee admitted that he hit Edwards with a scale weight, but said he had no idea that he would be arrested for it. Edwards had one of the worst black eyes seen here in a long time. The fine and costs amounted to $15.75. Headlee came here on his own accord when notified that he was to be arrested.

Shallow Mockery.

One of the unsupported word of Colonel Martin M. Mulhall, who has been shown to be a rank ingrate and a double-crosser of the first water, the Indianapolis News is moved to observe that the majority for Thomas R. Marshall in the race for governor in 1908 would have been much larger if the people of Indiana had known the source of the support of Watson's candidacy. We have the word of James Goodrich, who was state chairman in 1908 and who thus far has not been placed on the same level with Mulhall even by the News, and of a number of other reliable men of prominence in Indiana that Mulhall did not collect $22,000 for Watson's campaign in 1908. But Mulhall says that that sum was raised through his efforts and that seems to be enough for the News.

"It was in truth a secret conspiracy to control the political action of the people of the state," continues the News. The News hold up its hands in holy horror at the fact that business men should support the candidacy of Watson with their money and continually and faithfully omit the patent fact that the support of Thomas R. Marshall was much more to be feared by the people of Indiana. The News rants of Tom Taggart and his terrible connections in Indiana yet it was his crowd that put Mr. Marshall over. And Mr. Marshall in turn repaid Mr. Taggart and his brewery friends by repealing the county local option law and replacing it with a township option law which resulted in many towns and cities that had been "dry" going "wet."

Most people are wont to believe that the antics of the News concerning law enforcement in the cities of Indiana, as pictured by the versatile Mr. Blodgett, are hollow mockery. If the News stands for right as against wrong it should much sooner seek to know the contributors to Marshall's campaign so as to give its readers whom it is working so industriously to protect from all these sinister things in Indiana an insight into the combination of brewers which has fastened itself on the fair state.

The News has not demanded an investigation of Marshall's campaign, nor will it. The time can not come too quickly when the people shall know what inspires the utterances of the powerful metropolitan newspapers who will go any length to gain their own, selfish ends.

PROMINENT MEN ON HUNT OF BURGLARS

Watson home cautiously. Mr. Thomas warned the others that some boys were asleep in a tent in the backyard at Watson's and that care should be exercised if any shots were fired. Mrs. Watson was aroused and denied the presence of any burglars. She said she had heard no noise. Edwin Watson came down stairs and it was found that nothing had been disturbed.

It was afterwards learned that a crowd of boys had done the calling by telephone as a prank. It has since developed that the same boys called Prof. J. H. Scholl at his home at the corner of Seventh and Jackson street and had told him that burglars were in the home of Leonard Clark.

Immediately afterward Leonard Clark was called by telephone and told that burglars were in Scholl's home. Mr. Scholl investigated and saw no signs of burglars. He had about decided to retire when Leonard Clark called to him and told him that there were burglars in his (Scholl's) house. They both decided it was a joke.

None of the men objected to being called from bed, they said, but such a prank might result seriously. It is pointed out that sometimes shots are taken at burglars on the spur of the moment and that there might be a case where a suspected burglar might be an innocent person. Again it is stated that a burglar scare might cause a severe nervous shock to a woman.

SEARCH LEADS TO KNIGHTSTOWN

Mrs. Tom Jones of Connersville, Missing From Home, Mails Letter From There.

THOUGHT TO BE AT RICHMOND

Woman Passes Through Here on Way to Knightstown Following Return From Hamilton, O.

Thomas Jones of Connersville is continuing in Knightstown the search for his wife who has been absent for several weeks. She originally went to Hamilton, Ohio, for a visit with relatives. She returned home and came directly to this city on the I. & C. From here she went to Knightstown.

Anderson Vernon, a Mexican, of whom Mrs. Jones expressed a fear in a letter to her husband from Knightstown, has been held in Connersville several days, but yesterday was released. Vernon left Connersville for Hamilton at the same time Mrs. Jones did. It was feared he and she had eloped. Vernon was later arrested in Hamilton with a girl from Lyons' Station.

It was originally thought that the letter addressed to Mr. Jones from his wife had been mailed in Richmond, but it has just been learned that the epistle was mailed in Knightstown last Saturday, which has aroused the search in that place. A search in that place yesterday failed to locate her.

Mr. Jones returned home last evening and went again to Knightstown today to renew the search. He is at a loss to explain his wife's failure to find her anywhere in Knightstown, provided she is there.

Thus the mystery of the absence of Mrs. Jones still holds. It seems, however, that Anderson Vernon's difficulties touching the case are about dissolved, for he was released yesterday. The failure of any dependable proof that the man was with Mrs. Jones at all is supposed to have prompted the dismissal of the statutory charge which was launched against the prisoner at the outset. It is now thought that Mr. Jones' search in Knightstown may discover something further about his wife, the reasons for her absence, and the explanation of her failure to tell her husband where to find her, and of his own failure in that endeavor.

JUST SUMMER WEATHER.

What the weather expert designates as "typical summer weather" prevails over practically the entire United States. "Typical summer weather" means hot weather, it is explained, and Rushville seemed due to come in for its share of that brand today, if the early actions of the thermometer were an indication. The thermometer started the day at seven o'clock with a temperature of eighty degrees and this afternoon the mercury had mounted to ninety-four degrees.

TRIED TO GET BRYAN HERE

He's Now Being Censured For Saying he Has to Speak.

William J. Bryan, secretary of state, around whom is centering a storm of criticism that is nation wide because he declared he had to make chautauqua addresses in order to pay expenses, came very near being an attraction at the Rush county chautauqua. He was asked to appear here almost a year ago and his brother partially promised an engagement here. Finally the talent committee could not wait longer and filled the program. It is very likely that the appearance would have been cancelled anyway from the trend the public discussion is taking.

TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF LOWER RATES

Importers Holding Their Stuff In Bond.

New York, July 17.—To the amount of more than $70,000,000, imports are stored in the bonded warehouses of New York, waiting for the reduction of duties in the proposed tariff law. It is estimated that by the time the new tariff law goes into effect the total will be more than $100,000,000.

The importers are taking out of bond only enough to fill orders from day to day. As a result, the fifty-six big bonded warehouses in the city are being packed with imports of almost every description from almost every country in the world, all waiting for Uncle Sam's new tariff law.

The moment the tariff measure becomes a law there will be a rush on the part of importers to take the goods out of bond and ship them to retailers throughout the country. When the goods are taken out of bond it is regarded as likely that railroads and coastwise vessels will be taxed to their capacity to carry away the goods.

CLODBURST TRAPS MINNESOTA MINERS

Fifteen Men Found Their Escape Cut Off.

Eveleth, Minn., July 17.—Of the fifteen miners imprisoned in the Spruce mine by a clodburst, ten have been rescued. A crew of men is dynamiting the drifts, and it is thought they will reach the other five before long. It is believed that they are still living.

About twenty-five men are employed on the shift, and when the clodburst came all were working on the lower level. The pouring of the water down the shaft was the first intimation they received of the trouble. All attempted to get out, but the water flowed in so fast that fifteen were caught after reaching the upper level. All the rest were carried to safety on the lifts.

REFUSE TO DISCUSS NOTE

Neither Chinda Nor Bryan Will Talk For Publication.

Washington, July 17.—Secretary of State Bryan has handed to Viscount Chinda the answer of the United States to the last note received from the government of Japan in its protest against the California alien land law. Mr. Bryan and the ambassador both refused to discuss the note and its contents in any way. Mr. Bryan was unwilling to say whether the reply of the United States, which is the second of the series of exchanges, would afford the basis for a settlement of the controversy between the two countries. It is understood that the two governments are really no nearer a settlement of the matter than at the outset.

Wabash Claims Another Victim. Vincennes, Ind., July 17.—Franklin Fossmeier, a nineteen-year-old drug clerk, was drowned in the Wabash river at Fort Knox while swimming.

Both Sides Are Satisfied. Lexington, Ky., July 17.—The strike of the streetcar motormen and conductors has been settled. Practically all the old men applied for their positions and were put to work at once. The strike breakers were sent home. Both sides apparently are satisfied with the agreement.

Second Attempt Successful. Clayton, Ind., July 17.—Mrs. Brint Leitzman, aged thirty-five, committed suicide by taking poison. She had attempted suicide before by eating pulverized glass. It seems she was subject to temporary mental aberrations.

STATE GUARD TO HAVE BUSY WEEK

Preparations For Coming Encampment of I. N. G.

SOME INTERESTING FEATURES

One of the Most Important Points on the Program For the Week Is the Attention That Will Be Given to Military Athletics, All Sorts of Stunts Being Provided For—Officers' School in Progress This Week.

Indianapolis, July 17.—One day of the encampment of the Indiana national guard at Fort Benjamin Harrison next week, will be given over to military athletics. There will be races of a varied nature, including dashes over hurdles, equipment races, in which the soldier will remove his fighting outfit and replace it; relay races, speed contests in bearing the wounded from the field, tugs of war between regiments, and other contests. The most important event of the day will be a drill contest by squads, in which every infantry company in the Indiana national guard will participate.

They are having officers' school for the officers of the Indiana national guard this week and are putting them through all the paces of the men of the ranks. Officers' school in state guard organizations has been adopted by the war department as a means of giving the officers direct service in the field. They get right down to the humble business of soldiering. Heretofore only the officers holding commissions have been admitted to these field schools, but this year 20 noncommissioned officers from each company in the Indiana national guard are included in the student list. This is regarded as a highly important military step forward and the "noncoms" at Fort Harrison are bending every effort to make a better showing in the field than the commissioned officers.

AMBASSADOR WILSON IS SUMMONED HOME

President Wants to Know All About Mexico.

Washington, July 17.—The president finally has yielded to the foreign pressure for a declaration of policy of Mexico to the extent of directing Secretary Bryan to summon Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico, to Washington at once for a conference on the situation.

Ambassador Wilson cannot reach Washington for at least a week, and it is expected further developments in the situation as far as Washington is concerned will cease until his arrival.

It is established beyond question that the president's action was due to the union of the diplomatic corps in Mexico City in declaring the attitude of the United States toward Mexico a contributory cause of the increasing disorders there and the request from a European government that the Washington government indicate what it intends to do about the situation.

In many quarters it was declared emphatically that the Wilson administration is now confronted with the alternatives of "recognition or intervention."

Ambassador Wilson, who has been sent for in his capacity of the chief official representative of the United States in Mexico, personally is in favor of the recognition of the present government in Mexico. It will be most difficult for the president to accept the ambassador's views. The White House repeatedly has let it be known that the administration is determined not to recognize Huerta and his government. To reverse this policy at this belated date would be to give ground for the belief in Latin America that the United States was compelled to yield to pressure from Europe, and that therefore European nations and not the United States are supreme in the affairs of the Spanish-American republics.

Spectacular Cleanup Campaign. Elwood, Ind., July 17.—In an effort to stop gambling a number of women have banded together and are quietly seeking evidence in the hopes of causing the arrest of all the alleged offenders. Two arrests have already been made and others are to follow in what promises to be a spectacular cleanup campaign.

Another Victim of Lightning. Muncie, Ind., July 17.—While walking along a road about four miles west of Muncie, Joseph Storer, twenty-one years old, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

Fire Left "Iceberg." Warsaw, Ind., July 17.—An "iceberg" 100 feet long, 100 feet wide and 25 feet high has been left exposed to the sun by the fire which destroyed the plant of the Marion Ice company. The ice has been covered with hay and will be shipped as rapidly as possible.

MOSCOW MAN IS PAINFULLY HURT

John Shoppell is Terribly Burned While Cleaning Flue of a Traction Engine.

HE IS SAVED BY BYSTANDERS

John Shoppell, aged twenty-five years, of Moscow was terribly burned about the body yesterday afternoon at five o'clock, on the farm of "Bee" Ed Hatten, south of Geneva, while cleaning a clogged flue in a boiler of a traction engine, when the flue bursted, throwing scalding water and steam over him, says the Shelbyville Democrat. His burns were very painful and the skin peeled from his body in several places.

The victim of the terrible accident, is associated with Delbert Maple, of Waldron, in well drilling, and while taking the well outfit to the Wilk Holland farm, the flue in the engine choked up, near the home of Mr. Hatten. In attempting to clean it out, the flue bursted. Mr. Maple was not on the scene at the time of the accident, but several bystanders, who were watching him work, pulled him from his perilous position, probably saving him from a horrible fate.

Mr. Shoppell was carried to the home of Mr. Hatten and Dr. Schooley of Geneva, was called. When the clothes were taken from his body the skin on his arms and thighs peeled off in several places. Dr. Schooley stated today that altho the burns were dangerous, he did not believe they would prove fatal. Shoppell remained at the Hatten home until this afternoon, when he was removed in an auto to his own home.

CONTENDERS ARE STILL FAR APART

Arbitration Board Likely to Have Its Hands Full.

MAIN POINT IS UNDECIDED

Even in the Face of the Extra Effort on the Part of Congress to Amend Law So as to Make Conciliation of Railroad Dispute Easy For the Disputants, Latter Can't Make Up Their Minds What They Want Arbitrated.

New York, July 17.—From the present attitude of the managers' conference committee of the eastern railroads, as expressed by its representatives, it looks as if when the arbitration board is appointed under the Newlands amendment to the Erdman act to pass on the differences between the trainmen and conductors of the railroads, there will be a dispute as to what is to be arbitrated. On behalf of the managers' committee it was said that the arbitration will apply to the grievances of the railroads as well as to the demands of the men.

As a result of a hurriedly called conference in the engineering society's building between the managers' committee and the conference committees of the trainmen and conductors, it was decided to send a telegram to President Wilson asking for the speedy services of the mediators under the Newlands amendment.

A representative of the conference committee of managers was asked if the committee still held to the view that the managers insist that the complaints or grievances of the railroads will come under the arbitration.

"They hold," he said, "that all questions of rates, of wages and conditions of work of the trainmen and conductors will come under the arbitration proceedings and that the railroads will have matters to submit to arbitration."

When W. G. Lee, head of the trainmen's organization, was told of this he said: "We will not stand for arbitration of anything but the points at issue and at the conference between our committees and the committees of the railroads, no mention was made of anything but the questions now in dispute, which are the demands of the trainmen and conductors."

President Garretson of the conductors' organization said in reference to the Erie railroad, which withdrew from the managers' committee and whose officials say it will not be represented in the arbitration proceedings, that whatever award is made by arbitration must be accepted by the Erie.

"The committee of the conductors and trainmen of the Erie system have been ordered to reconvene here at once," he said.

It was learned that the Erie will not be likely to allow a strike if it can be averted. It is possible that the Erie may agree to arbitration separate from that of the other roads. The Erie will in the meantime, it was said, await the result of the present arbitration.

GIVEN NO ENCOURAGEMENT

Lake County People Protest Against Housing Law's Terms.

Indianapolis, July 17.—A delegation of citizens from Lake county conferred with Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner, concerning the limitations the new housing law imposes on builders of flats and similar structures. The delegation was headed by John Gavit, Democratic county chairman of Lake county. Mr. Gavit explained the situation by saying that in Lake county land had suddenly become extremely valuable. Many business men in Gary and other towns, he said, wish to erect business blocks with flats above them. Such a procedure is practically prohibited by the new law, which prevents the use of more than 65 per cent of the ground on which the dwelling places are to be erected.

The delegation called on Governor Ralston, but got no encouragement. At the state board of health they likewise failed to receive encouragement. They were told that the terms of the law could not be interpreted by the state board, and they would have to appeal to the courts.

Another Christian Science Row.

New York, July 17.—Mrs. Edgar J. Wright of Bayside, L. I., denounced Richard P. Verrall, first reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the regular testimonial meeting of the congregation last evening, as "a member of the society of the Jesuits."

Terre Haute, Ind., July 17.—After a three weeks' trial and before the case went to the jury, the $10,000 damage suit of Fred Yonke against the Big Four railroad for the loss of both legs in a wreck in the local yards was compromised. Yonke will receive $6,000.

Suicide of E. T. Reasoner.

Peru, Ind., July 17.—Ethan T. Reasoner, a lawyer and former representative from Miami county, ended his life at Bass lake by shooting. He had been in ill health for some time.

Prof. Paul Samuel Reinsch of the University of Wisconsin has been selected by President Wilson to be minister to China.

COL. MULHALL'S 5,000 LETTERS

Senate Committee Delving Into Extraordinary File.

SURFACE HARDLY SCRATCHED

Though the Investigation Has Reached That Period in the Activities of the Busy Colonel Mulhall When He Had Become Mixed Up in Big Affairs in Washington, There Is Much That Hasn't Yet Been Touched Upon.

Washington, July 17.—Colonel Martin M. Mulhall volunteered the assertion, during the review of Mulhall's 5,000 letters by the senate lobby committee, that the National Council for Industrial Protection was possessed of the power to raise at any time from $500,000 to $700,000 a year to promote legislation favorable to the employing interests or to hinder labor legislation of a radical character. The committee did not delve very far into the colonel's assertion when he made it, but later called to the stand J. P. Bird, general manager of the National Manufacturers' association and interrogated him as to the character, composition and scope of the national council, of which he is the treasurer. Bird told the committee that organization had been formed for purposes of combating the radical tendencies in the matter of state and national labor legislation. The association numbered some twenty-five subsidiary associations, of which the most important was the N. A. M. He said that Mulhall's assertion that the National Council for Industrial Defense makes an annual expenditure in its legislative activity of half a million or more, will be met by the production of the treasurer's book of the national council, which will show expenditures, he said, of $35,000 or $40,000 per annum.

In the committee's review of Mulhall's correspondence it reached the period in the career of the colonel when he had become active in big affairs in Washington. The colonel laid claim to a most intimate relation with the late Vice President James S. Sherman, then a member of the house and chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee. He was hand in glove with Representative James E. Watson, then newly nominated for the governorship of Indiana. He called on Senators Aldrich and Foraker with reckless abandon.

A letter written by Mulhall to Mr. Schwedman in the spring of 1908, when Colonel Roosevelt was president, told of a conversation between Watson and Roosevelt with regard to certain legislation pending and Mr. Roosevelt's chances for a third term was read. A report by Mulhall on the situation in the district of Representative John J. Gardner of New Jersey, also was read. Mr. Gardner had incurred the enmity of the N. A. M. through his persistent advocacy of the eight-hour bill, then pending before the house labor committee. In this report Mulhall says among other things:

"In my interview with Mr. Sherman, the chairman of the Republican national committee, on Wednesday, he distinctly told me that we ought to defeat Gardner at the coming primary election if possible. Mr. Sherman also stated that he has done everything he possibly could to stop Gardner from getting these radical bills before congress."

In a letter to Mr. Schwedman, dated Columbus, O., March 21, 1908, Colonel Mulhall tells of a talk with Mr. Vorys, who then was Secretary Taft's political manager. This took place while Mulhall was in Ohio helping R. D. Cole's renomination for congress. Mr. Vorys assured him, he said, that the secretary was just as strong as he ever was regarding injunction laws, and was not in favor of amending them. He also stated that Mr. Taft stood for a tariff commission. Mulhall told Vorys that there were two things the N. A. M. wanted. One was that they wished representation on the next national campaign committee, and the other was that they felt that they were entitled to a member in the next cabinet.

STUDIES WERE UNAVAILING

These Boys Did Not Learn How Not to Be Caught.

New York, July 17.—Two sixteen-year-old high school boys, indicted for burglary and robbery, have confessed that they began a career of scientific crime to get money to pay their way through college as a preliminary to a life as high class crooks.

To do this they read every detective story they could find, they spent hours in public libraries poring over historic crime, read the daily papers and compared notes to see how they could escape blunders that caused the downfall of actual criminals. They saw dramas of crime and read the confessions of thieves.

The boys are Louis Koenig and Nathan Koshelle, who pleaded guilty two days ago to an indictment charging them with holding up a man and stealing $2,200 worth of gold fillings from him.

President Wilson is confident that the tariff bill will have been passed by congress and signed by him by Sept. 1.
